

HINTS AT PERJURY BY THE FORD TALESMEN

QUARTER OF OIL TRUST OWNED BY ROCKEFELLER

Says Standard Still Operates in Texas

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—John D. Rockefeller owned more than a one-fourth interest in the old Standard Oil Trust, according to testimony of W. H. Telford in the federal proceedings against the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey here today. Telford testified that it was correct that Rockefeller owned 256,851 shares out of a total of 972,500 shares of Standard Oil Trust certificates in 1882 and that after an assignment was made transferring to Rockefeller his proportionate interest in the stocks of the subsidiary companies.

Evidence was adduced today, which Frank R. Kellogg, who is conducting the government's action, says tends to prove that the Standard Oil Company is operating in Texas under the name of the Cushing Refining Company. The Texas Anti-trust laws forbid the Standard from doing business within the borders of that State.

OFFICIALS OF TRUST.
Kellogg developed from Wesley H. Telford, treasurer of the Standard Oil Company, that H. C. Folger and C. N. Payne, who, Kellogg says, are the owners of the Cushing company are officials of the Standard Oil Company.

Telford was questioned by Kellogg, who is conducting the federal suit against the oil combine, in an effort to glean further facts and figures concerning the development of the Standard Oil Trust and its subsequent liquidation into the present Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Kellogg said today that the records of liquidating trustees, which had been finally furnished by the Standard company, were being examined by the government's counsel and that it might be several days before the information desired could be produced in court. Kellogg also intimated that further witnesses might be subpoenaed as a result of the developments of the last two days and that the hearings would likely be prolonged for some time.

Telford was shown a copy of the agreement of 1882, showing a list of companies that entered into the trust.

RIOT WHEN FUSE BLOWS ON CAR IN THE POTRERO

Conductor Compelled to Draw Revolver to Prevent Attack by Alleged Union Men.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The blowing out of the fuse on a Kentucky street car at 1:30 this morning, was the occasion for a small street riot in the Potrero district, and before it was over, an automobile with some armed guards of the United Railroad and Police Officer A. K. Dettel had played a prominent part.

The car was proceeding slowly up the Eighteenth street hill, and had some twenty-five passengers on board when the fuse suddenly blew out and some one pulled the trolley off, leaving the car in total darkness. Immediately some of the passengers, who were slightly intoxicated, began to abuse the carmen, and generally to create a disturbance.

HAMPER CREW.
They endeavored in every way possible to prevent the crew upon their train from leaving the scene, and when the carmen, who were slightly intoxicated, began to abuse the carmen, and generally to create a disturbance.

who were pointed out by Conductor W. L. Vyner.

When the fuse had been replaced and the car started on its way, the automobile left, taking the two captives with it. The passengers on the car, however, resented the action of the conductor in pointing out the two men who had been taken away, and they began to abuse him again.

DRAWNS REVOLVER.
This time he pulled a revolver from his pocket and showing it in the faces of T. P. Foreman, 1502 Kentucky street, and C. H. Coster, 1078 Tennessee street, he threatened them with bodily injury if they did not desist. The sight of the revolver somewhat cowed the crowd and all again went peacefully until Eighteenth and Kentucky street was reached, when one of the passengers called Police Officer Dettel and requested him to arrest the conductor, who had a gun in his pocket.

The crowd again became abusive at the sight of the officer and Dettel had some difficulty in taking Vyner to the Potrero station.

BOY KIDNAPPED FOR MONTH FOUND WAITING IN STREET

Child-Stealer Had Three Other Children

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Another Italian kidnapping case that has puzzled the police for a month has been partially solved. Nicola Tomaso, four years old, son of a bootblack in East Houston street, was found standing in front of a house on Fifth avenue. The boy said that a man named Tony had him and two little girls and another boy, away on a long trolley ride, and told him to wait on the street until he came back. The policeman found him while he was waiting. Nicola's father got many threatening letters before he disappeared on August 19.

YOUNG GIRL CARES FOR 11; FATHER WON'T WORK

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—One of the worst cases of neglect which has come to the attention of the society for prevention of cruelty to children in some time was revealed this morning when John H. McLaughlin appeared in Judge Cavanaugh's court to answer to a charge of neglecting to provide for a minor child.

McLaughlin, who is a painter by trade, is the father of eleven children, the eldest of which is eighteen years old. His wife died last May and the entire care of the family has devolved upon a seventeen-year-old daughter. The two sons, aged eighteen and sixteen, earn $1 a month between them, and this, they say, is all they have had for their support for the last year.

McLaughlin, it is said, has given his daughter only $5 toward the support of himself and the children since the death of his wife, and has absolutely refused to work. He is a painter by trade, but has not done anything but a few odd jobs for almost five years, the authorities say.

The case was brought to the attention of the court through Mrs. Fry, who has been engaged in charitable work in this city for some time.

When McLaughlin was questioned by Judge Cavanaugh this morning he stated that whiskey was responsible for his downfall, but refused to make any promises as to what he would do if set at liberty.

He was given sixty days in the county jail.

JUDGE LAWLOR REBUKES THE JURORS

VENIRE AGAIN EXHAUSTED WHILE ONLY ONE TALISMAN IS PASSED

Jurors Under Examination Declare That Their Opinions Are Deep-Rooted, and Judge Rebukes Them for Their Attitude.

Attorney Earl Rogers

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The examination of twenty-eight talesmen with the passing of but one, sharp tiffs between the defense and prosecution, and the sharp rebuke issued to talesmen whom Judge Lawlor practically accused of perjury, gave spice to the trial of Tref L. Ford, United Railroad attorney, on trial for the alleged bribery of former Supervisor Tom Linneman.

Jacob Gottlob, of the firm of Gottlob & juror presented a shrewd, eloquent, inquisitive, Marx, theatrical managers, was the one juror passed.

The entire venire of thirty-eight names, which was drawn Tuesday, was exhausted and Judge Lawlor ordered a special venire of forty names to be secured at once to report to the court tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. Opinion too deeply rooted to be removed by either evidence or the court's instruction caused the disqualification of talesman after talesman. The defense did not ask a question until nearly the end of the morning session.

CHALLENGE RAPIDLY
FOLLOWS CHALLENGE.
Deputy Prosecutor O'Gara conducted the case for the prosecution, and did practically all the questioning and challenge after challenge followed, with the assent of the defense. Early in the session Judge Lawlor exhibited signs of impatience with the manner in which the talesmen stated that they had such fixed opinions that nothing could remove them. Near the end of the session Judge Lawlor told the remaining talesmen that many had testified to having opinions merely to escape jury service and that this really constituted perjury, and that any man who would so testify under oath was not a fit person to serve on a jury.

After the last of the talesmen had been examined and the special venire had been ordered Judge Lawlor adjourned court till tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

ROGERS OBJECTS TO HENEY'S QUESTION.
Heney's questions to Talesman Gottlob as to whether he was prejudiced in favor of the defense or prosecution brought forth an objection from Rogers. This point was sharply contested by both sides and Judge Lawlor was asked to settle the matter.

"I believe it is valid," said Henev. "Your belief don't make everything valid," flashed back Stanley Moore. The matter was finally taken under consideration by the court.

PROCEED WITH TWO OF JURORS ABSENT.
Court convened promptly at 9:30 o'clock. The roll-call of the ten jurors revealed the absence of two of the men, Bender and Strange, but the court decided to proceed with the trial.

Judge Lawlor ordered the return of the veniremen drawn Tuesday. When the calling of the names was finished, Judge Lawlor ordered the examination of the veniremen to proceed. Slips containing the names of the men named for service were placed in the box and after being shaken, the drawing was ordered.

Edward Forrest, 1064 Sanchez street, was the first drawn. George Eberly, who was the last remaining juror on the old venire, was the first examined.

"Have you any opinion in this case, Mr. Eberly?" asked O'Gara.

"Yes, I have."

"Could you give a fair verdict?"

"No."

"We challenge for cause," said O'Gara and the challenge was allowed.

Edward Forrest, a blacksmith, was then called.

"Have you any opinion in the case?" questioned O'Gara.

"Yes, sir."

"Have you formed this opinion from reading the papers?"

"Not wholly."

EVIDENCE WOULD NOT CHANGE HIS OPINION.
"Could your opinion be changed by evidence?"

"No; it could not."

He was challenged for cause and excused.

J. H. Bloom and J. A. McCaffy were the next called. Bloom was examined first.

As in the case of the two preceding veniremen examined, O'Gara's first questions were along the lines of opinions and prejudices. The questions brought

UNION CARMEN BADLY BEATEN

Fight Ends in Trip to the Receiving Hospital.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Ben Warren and William Glynn, two union car men were passengers on a Howard street car early this morning, and attempted, it is alleged, to pick a fight with the non-union operators. They first dabbled about paying their fares and later are accused of making several abusive remarks. When the car neared the barn at Twenty-fourth and Utah street, they openly attacked the motorman and conductor, according to the non-union men, and received a bad beating for their pains.

They were taken to the Central Emergency Hospital by Policemen Wade and May and later arrested and booked at the city prison.

Calhoun's Chaffeur Fined $10 for Speeding

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Newton Miners, the chauffeur for Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, was fined $10 in Judge Cavanaugh's court this morning for violating the speed ordinance. Miners had just left Calhoun in the Flook building and was speeding up Sutter street under orders from Calhoun to get there and get there in a hurry, when Policeman T. E. Mahoney, who is no respecter of persons, took him into custody and booked him at the city prison.

RICH MAN GETS SON FROM JAIL

Reconciliation Takes Place in Police Court.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Father and son, the former a wealthy physician, the latter a prisoner in the night court on a charge of begging have been reconciled as the result of the young man's examination by Magistrate Breen.

The father is Dr. Charles A. Whitney, a member of the Sons of the Revolution, the St. Nicholas Society and other organizations. The son, who has lost a leg and has been away from home for a year owing to the differences with his parent is Lloyd Whitney, 22 years old. Magistrate Breen, who obtained the young man's story, remanded him to the prison connected with the court and thither the father drove early this morning to obtain the son's release. When Dr. Whitney informed the magistrate that he was willing to take his son home, Magistrate Breen signed the discharge papers. Later they went home together.

FAMOUS DIETZ DISPUTE ENDS

Holder of Cameron Dam to Release Logs He Held.

WINTER, Wis., Sept. 19.—The famous Dietz dam dispute has been settled. It is stated that an agreement has been made between the contending parties and that the millions of feet of logs have long been held up by the intrepid defendant of Cameron dam on the Thorndale river near here will be moved at once. The terms of the settlement are not given.

The trouble arose over a dispute as to the title of a tract of land covering the Cameron dam. Both the Chippewa, Log and Boom Company and John Dietz claimed title to the land, and Dietz defended the property against all comers. Three sheriffs failed to capture Dietz who had gained national fame for his hold out in defying the authorities.

Submarine Eruption Causes Fish Slaughter

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—A dispatch received here from Progresso, Mexico, says:

"The entire Yucatan coast ten miles seaward is strewn with dead fish, presumably from a submarine eruption."

No report of an earthquake anywhere has lately been sent out from Washington, but it is recalled here that the severe earthquake which affected all the Mexican borders of the Gulf of Mexico on April 15 last was accompanied by a tidal wave and the killing of great quantities of fish.

VENIRE AT FORD TRIAL IS AGAIN EXHAUSTED

MAX GOTTLOB IS ONLY TALESMAN PASSED OUT OF THE NEW PANEL

but the fact that the talesman was produced in favor of the prosecution.

"Would you require the defendant to prove his innocence?" he was asked.

"Yes he would have to prove it," said the talesman.

"But could you give the defendant a fair trial?" was O'Gara's next question.

"I object to that as a leading question," broke in Rogers. "As the question has been asked several times."

Judge Lawlor overruled the objection.

"My prejudice is such that it could not be removed under any circumstances," said Bloom. He was challenged for cause by O'Gara, and excused.

J. A. McJannet was placed on the stand and stated that his hearing was defective, and was excused.

COULD NOT TRY THE CASE FAIRLY.

Frederick Eggers, 210 Octavia street, was then sworn. Like the preceding talesman, he stated he had a fixed opinion, and was challenged for cause.

"Have you any opinion regarding this case?" was the first question asked Peter N. Butt, the next talesman.

"Yes, sir, I have," was the reply.

"Can you set aside that opinion and try this case fairly?"

"No, I could not," was the answer.

O'Gara challenged the talesman and he was excused.

George Casney and Charles Marcus were the next names drawn. O'Gara began with Casney.

"Have you any opinion in this case?" Mr. Casney was asked.

"Yes, I have a prejudice," was the answer.

"Could you give the defendant a fair trial?"

"No, I could not," Judge Lawlor allowed the challenges.

DEFENSE LETS O'GARA DO ALL QUESTIONING

Up to this time the defense had not asked a single question of the prejudiced talesman.

Have you an opinion in this case, Mr. Marcus?" asked O'Gara.

"Yes, I have."

Is that opinion one gained from reading the newspapers?" he was asked.

"Yes, it is."

If you were sworn to try this case could you give the defendant a fair trial?"

"No, I don't think I could."

He was challenged for cause and excused.

Raoul Chertrey and Frank Kessler were next called.

"Mr. Chertrey, where do you live?" asked O'Gara.

At 2323 Jackson street.

What is your business?"

"I am vice president of a manufacturing firm."

Have you an opinion in these cases, Mr. Chertrey?" asked O'Gara.

"Yes, I have a strong opinion."

Could I try this case impartially?"

"It would be impossible," said the juror.

REMINDS JURORS THEY ARE UNDER OATH

At this point Judge Lawlor spoke to the talesmen reminding them that they were under oath and that he hoped they would remember this when testifying.

Frank Kessler, a lumberman, was called.

Have you an opinion in this case?" asked O'Gara.

"Yes, I have a strong one."

Would you be willing to be tried by twelve of the same mind as your own?"

"I would not."

"The challenge the witness said O'Gara."

In response to a question by Judge Lawlor the talesman said he was satisfied that he had correctly stated his condition of mind and that he had not been influenced in his answers by business considerations.

The challenge was allowed and David Neustadter and James B. Peasley were next drawn.

Neustadter was the first of the two to be examined.

The same question as to opinion was asked him.

"Have you an opinion?"

"Yes."

"Could it be removed by evidence?"

"No, it could not," was the reply and O'Gara challenged.

Peasley, the next talesman, at once testified that he would be able to give a fair hearing to the defendant as he had a very strong opinion.

Judge Lawlor exhibited considerable surprise at the manner in which the talesman expressed his opinion.

He questioned Peasley to learn how and when the opinion was formed before allowing the challenge.

WOULD BE PREJUDICED IN DEFENDANT'S FAVOR.

John R. Cole and John Mollenhauer came next with Mollenhauer first on the stand. A few questions as to his work were asked and then the same old query.

Have you an opinion in this case?"

"Well, not exactly an opinion but I know Mr. Dillingham and for that reason would be prejudiced in favor of the defense," replied the talesman.

Then you don't think you could give the defendant a fair trial?"

"No, I don't."

O'Gara then challenged but the defense didn't desire to list the witness.

"I object to that as a leading question," broke in Rogers. "As the question has been asked several times."

Judge Lawlor overruled the objection.

"My prejudice is such that it could not be removed under any circumstances," said Bloom. He was challenged for cause by O'Gara, and excused.

J. A. McJannet was placed on the stand and stated that his hearing was defective, and was excused.

John R. Cole, 2305 Foot street, was challenged. Attorney O'Gara, who proved that he had formed an opinion which would prevent him from giving the defendant a fair trial.

The challenge was denied by the defense and Rogers questioned.

Did you distinguish the difference between thinking you have an opinion of prejudice and actually having a prejudice in the case?"

I have said the talesman "a decided opinion in this case. Besides there are circumstances which might tend to influence my opinion. My wife is acquainted with the wife of the defendant but at the same time I have a decided opinion."

The challenge was allowed.

DEFENSE CHALLENGES CRONAN FOR PREJUDICE.

J. B. Cronan was challenged for prejudice.

Then Judge Lawlor asked if Cronan had formed and expressed an opinion. The talesman replied that he had formed an opinion. The court then stated that where persons had formed an opinion of a case and when they had sworn that they could and would give the defendant a fair trial, the fact of their having formed an opinion did not disqualify their serving as jurors.

Cronan stated further that he had had people speak to him about the case and that he had believed what had been told him. The court thereupon excused the talesman.

F. Mohrhardt was the next on the stand and at once testified that he was prejudiced. He stated that he was at once prejudiced and that it would be impossible to give the defendant a fair trial. O'Gara's challenge was not denied and the talesman was excused.

W. G. Lowe, the next talesman, called at once stated that he too had a strong prejudice in the case.

JUDGE GIVES WARNING OF PERJURED ANSWERS.

Could you set aside that opinion and give the defendant a fair trial?" asked O'Gara.

"No, I don't think I could."

O'Gara challenged. Judge Lawlor began to question the talesman.

When did you last discuss this case?" the court asked.

On a couple of days ago.

Are you influenced in any way by your business relations?"

No, I am not.

I begin to note that many of these jurors are giving answers stating strong prejudices in order to evade jury service. I wish to state that this constitutes perjury and any juror who testifies in that manner is not fit to serve on this jury. And he then looked sharply at Mohrhardt, who had practically admitted that his opinion was due largely to the fact that he wished to escape jury service.

READ OF CASE AND HAS FORMED OPINION

The next talesman was E. J. Begullian, 615 Railroad avenue. He had no regular business though he said his trade was a sheep butcher. He had also been in the shoe business. He had formed an opinion in the case from reading.

I formed the opinion several months ago and as time passed the opinion strengthened, he concluded.

Would it be true evidence to remove the opinion?" asked O'Gara.

"It would not."

"You don't think you could change it?"

"I don't think I could."

O'Gara challenged the talesman.

101 say," said Rogers in denying the challenge that you have formed an opinion."

"Yes."

"And for reading the newspapers?"

"Yes."

If any evidence came in that would solidify your present opinion you would welcome it, wouldn't you?"

"I think I would."

Your opinion is one that would influence you in trying this case?"

"I think it would."

Do you ask Judge Lawlor "belong to any organization which is opposed to sitting in the trial of cases?"

"I do not."

The talesman was excused.

BOTH SIDES BEGIN TO GET EXCITED

James Cronogue of 3570 Twenty third street was excused. Wm. Hess and Louis Meyer came next. By this time both sides were well worked up.

Mr. Meyer have you any opinion in the case?" asked O'Gara.

Well, no, but I am subject to attacks of illness which may come on me at any time. He was excused by consent of both sides and Hess was questioned.

Have you any opinion in this case?" asked O'Gara.

Well, a slight one, answered Hess.

Is that opinion so grounded that it would render you unfit for jury service?"

"No, I don't think so."

Have you any prejudice against the prosecution for granting immunity to the former supervisors?" was O'Gara's next question.

No, I have not.

Then you would credit the statement of the former supervisors, despite the fact that they received immunity?"

"Yes, I believe I would."

"Do you know any member of the defense?"

None except Mr. Byington."

Do you know Mr. Ruef?"

"Yes, I have known him a long time."

You know of course, that Mr. Ruef is jointly concerned in the indictment against Thirey L. Ford?" asked O'Gara.

Yes, sir."

Would it not influence you in the defendant's favor when you think Abraham Ruef is likewise indicted?" questioned O'Gara.

No, I never was."

What kind of a building is the Van Ness Theater, a class A structure?"

Gottlob said he did not know and the juror was finally passed by Henry and Rogers took up the questioning beginning with the Van Ness Theater on which Henry had questioned the talesman.

Did you see Mr. Burns, Mr. Henry and Mrs. Sprackles sitting in the box on the night of the opening?"

Before Gottlob could answer Henry shouted.

I know Mr. Sprackles wasn't there. I know that Mr. Henry wasn't there but I don't know whether Mrs. Burns was."

IMPARTIAL, BUT IS CHALLENGED FOR CAUSE.

No, I don't think it would," replied Meyer.

Then you could give a fair and impartial trial?"

Yes, sir, I believe so."

Do you know Schmitz?"

Not personally."

"Do you think there has been any bribery committed?" asked O'Gara.

Well, yes, was the reply.

A little further questioning elicited the statement that the talesman believed a crime had been committed although he didn't know by whom. O'Gara challenged and the defense assented.

Edwin G. Newhall of 4008 Pacific avenue was then called.

Have you formed an opinion in the case?" asked O'Gara.

I have something of an impression.

Do you think you could give the defendant a fair trial?"

I think I should be influenced."

You are in the car business?"

Yes."

You are connected with the California street railroad system?"

Yes, sir."

Then it does business with the United Railroads?"

It is now being transferred."

ROGERS PERMITS NEWHALL TO GO.

O'Gara challenged the juror but Rogers denied the challenge.

"Is your opinion such that you could not receive the evidence in this case and weigh it?"

I have pretty well made up my mind."

But you think you could not sit in the case?"

Rogers allowed the challenge.

Steven Nutting of Duboce and Fillmore streets told O'Gara that he had an opinion in the case.

Is it an opinion?" asked Rogers, "that it would require evidence to remove?"

"It is."

You would enter the jury with that opinion?"

I would, sir."

The talesman was excused.

"UNVARNISHED PERJURY," SAYS JUDGE LAWLOR.

Juror Lowe was then examined.

I would not like to act as a juror your honor because I'm all alone in business."

Yes, and I begin to appreciate that perhaps some of these jurors are giving answers based upon such considerations and it is proper for them to know that answers given on such a basis constitute plain unvarnished perjury," said the court.

I don't think a person who would give an answer under such circumstances is fit to sit as a juror. The juror will be excused. Call two more jurors."

The court said that the publication of the names of the talesmen was an overture to make difficult the service of process by the sheriff. It was to be regretted as it made it possible for the talesmen to avoid the service when applied in his drawing in advance. The publication however was not prevented because the names were part of the public record. He would ask however that the names be published in advance of the appearance of the talesmen in court.

As it was not illegal to publish the names, he repeated he could not forbid the publication and would have to leave the matter to the consideration of the editors.

DERIVES OPINION FROM NEWSPAPERS.

J. J. Godob of 2105 Lyon street was asked by O'Gara.

Have you an opinion in the case?"

"Yes."

"From what source did you derive it?"

"From the newspapers."

"You have expressed the opinion?"

"I have."

"During the last six weeks have you expressed the opinion?"

A number of times.

Could you give the defendant a fair trial?"

"Would it require evidence to overcome that opinion?"

Yes.

"What do you mean by that?"

"That I have an opinion."

"You do not believe that you would be willing to discuss the evidence of it were in opposition to your opinion?"

"Yes."

At the time the prosecution granted immunity to the supervisors, you approved of that act, did you?"

Well, not exactly.

Would you be willing to return a verdict of guilty when the second party to the bribery was allowed to go free?" asked O'Gara.

That is a hard question to answer off hand, replied Gottlob.

Do you approve of the action of the prosecution in granting immunity to the supervisors?"

Do I have to answer that?" asked the talesman.

Yes, said Judge Lawlor.

DID NOT APPROVE OF IMMUNITY BATH.

"If the evidence were contrary to your opinion, the evidence would have to overcome your opinion?"

Yes."

Now you would carry that opinion into the jury box?"

Yes."

At the time the prosecution granted immunity to the supervisors, you approved of that act, did you?"

Well, not exactly.

Would you be willing to return a verdict of guilty when the second party to the bribery was allowed to go free?" asked O'Gara.

That is a hard question to answer off hand, replied Gottlob.

Do you approve of the action of the prosecution in granting immunity to the supervisors?"

Do I have to answer that?" asked the talesman.

Yes, said Judge Lawlor.

WOULD BE PREJUDICED AGAINST PROSECUTION.

The talesman then stated that he did not approve of the prosecution granting immunity to some and not to others and that he would be prejudiced against the prosecution.

Ever know Mr. Henry? questioned O'Gara.

At this point Henry took a hand in the case.

Were you ever before the Grand Jury?" asked the graft prosecutor.

No, I never was."

You conduct a theater, do you not?"

"Yes, sir."

"Got a license?"

"Yes."

"Have you?"

"Yes."

"What kind of a building is the Van Ness Theater, a class A structure?"

Gottlob said he did not know and the juror was finally passed by Henry and Rogers took up the questioning beginning with the Van Ness Theater on which Henry had questioned the talesman.

Did you see Mr. Burns, Mr. Henry and Mrs. Sprackles sitting in the box on the night of the opening?"

Before Gottlob could answer Henry shouted.

I know Mr. Sprackles wasn't there. I know that Mr. Henry wasn't there but I don't know whether Mrs. Burns was."

WOULD COMPLY WITH INSTRUCTIONS.

Well, said Rogers, I read in the papers that they were there.

"Would you comply with the instructions of the court to the effect that the evidence would have to prove the guilt of the defendant otherwise the defendant should be acquitted?"

I think so."

Is your opinion to the effect that the defendant is guilty or innocent?" inquired Henry.

I object, said Moore Jr.

That question was asked by Mr. Moore Sr. said Henry.

Yes and it was attended to by O'Gara said the younger Moore, and we withdrew.

I withdrew, said the elder Moore.

Henry argued that he was entitled to ask the question.

Rogers said he had a brief on the subject but could not produce it at the moment.

Henry declared that Coogan and Delmas had asked the question and the jury was under the impression, said Henry, that it was valid.

STANLEY MOOR HAS SHOT FOR HENRY.

'But your impressions don't make anything valid," shot young Moore.

Henry glared at the smiling young attorney and took up the argument with Rogers.

Judge Lawlor then looked up the question and read an lengthy opinion on some He stated however that the matter would not be decided at the time but he would reach a decision later.

The court then ordered the sheriff to order a special venire of forty men to return to be made of the venire tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The court read the qualifications of a juror and among other things said that gentlemen could not be selected from bystanders but from people of the several wards of this city in proportion of the population thereof.

J. J. Gottlob the talesman who had been passed tentatively was admonished by the court to allow no person to speak to him about the case or anything connected with it.

An adjournment was then taken until tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

PLAYS CRAZY; IT DIDN'T WORK

Alleged Burglar Too Ill to Face Court for Several Weeks to Come.

Ernest Gibson, alias Frank Vonders awaiting trial in the County Jail for alleged burglary was yesterday denied an opportunity to enter in asylum for the insane whither he had been directed by his attorney. Gano G. Kennedy, the latter, was scored severely by both District Attorney Brown and Superior Judge Waste before whom the case was heard.

When Gibson's case was called before Judge Melvin last Monday morning Kennedy applied for continuance of the prisoner, pleading illness of the prisoner. He then visited Gibson who began to play crazy shortly after the call. He was removed to an insane ward at the Emergency Hospital and a commitment for lunacy requested.

FAILED TO PLAY 'CRAZY'

But Gibson was evidently not aware that inspection of the wards is always possible even behind the closed door. He acted neither in an unbalanced nor delirious manner. The man is undoubtedly ill.

Gibson was peremptorily remanded to jail and appeared before Judge Melvin this morning. Owing to his debilitated condition Judge Melvin continued the hearing for four weeks at the end of which time Gibson will be formally arraigned. In the meantime District Attorney Brown suggested that necessary medical attention be given the prisoner.

Kennedy has seemingly lost interest in his client since the insane bluff failed to impress Judge Waste and the District Attorney. This morning he and Gibson were huddled on speaking terms and the weakened colleague was evidently much disgusted with yesterday's fiasco. Gibson is said to have returned to his cell last evening. Well boys, here I can't make this 4-crazy business work. I'm too sick."

Hate Evil Elitot has broken out again and this time he has decided that things must be mopped in the bud. After weeks of careful investigation he has at last become firmly convinced that "Hizzouzer the mayor is neglecting his official duties as a result of having read George Stead's 'Wine of Wizardry' and should be impeached therefor."

Hate Evil Elitot has also obtained inside information of an actual nature conclusively proving that municipal affairs are in the hands of witches who should be shot and not burned or hung.

His letter is as follows:

Franklin K. Mott Esq.

His Honor the Mayor of the City of Oakland

My dear sir: My health is very poor. I have just returned from the country. I find you have been neglecting the duties of your honorable position. The citizens of this community will not stand this state of affairs very much longer.

There are more witches in this city today than before I went away. I have got to get at the root of this evil. I am satisfied sir that this "Wine of Wizardry" is the cause of it all. It is your duty as censor of the press to nip this thing in the bud. I desire you to exercise greater attention and be very careful and not have any witches shot. They must be burned or hung. If you do not give this matter attention and let that park bond issue alone I shall demand your impeachment.

Now sir I desire no harshness in this matter but this "Wine of Wizardry" has got to go or you will lose your official head. I shall appear

STABS ENEMY THREE TIMES

Free Fight in Saloon Ends With One Principal in the Hospital.

James Dixon, a solicitor for various photograph engraving establishments in Oakland and San Francisco, was stabbed and seriously wounded while standing in a saloon at Seventh street near Clay last night.

About 11:30 p. m. Dixon and several acquaintances dropped in at the saloon in question to assign their thirst according to reports that had already in bid several rounds and were in a state of high good humor when a stranger standing some distance down the bar made a slighting remark about the trio, which Dixon resented.

FREE FIGHT STARTS

Quickly a free fight started and Dixon landed on one opponent several short arm jabs which would have done credit to his famous namesake. Dixon states that his antagonist then closed on him and the next thing he remembers is his appearance at the emergency hospital.

Examination by the physicians disclosed three ugly knife wounds in the groin and abdomen the longest gash extending three inches on the surface. Fortunately for Dixon none of the thrusts had reached any of the internal organs which will probably insure his ultimate recovery. He spent a comfortable night at the hospital and this morning complained of scarcely any pain.

ASSAULT UNKNOWN

Dixon said that he had never seen his assailant before but believes that the man was looking for him as he is certain that the knife was drawn before the men closed. He had a dim memory that one of his friends seemed to know the man in question.

Dixon's foster brother Fred Starr who is employed as a carpenter at Richmond, has been notified of the affair and will probably come to Oakland and take the wounded man home. He other members of Dixon's party are being held by the police. It is reported that they will not divulge the name of the other brawler.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PRATHER TO BE HELD FROM HOME

In the Death of Gentle Woman, Methodist Church Loses One of Its Most Faithful Workers.

Mrs. Laura Prather, one of the gentlest of women, most affectionate of mothers and most sincere and zealous of Christian workers, died at her home at the corner of Tenth and Filbert streets at 7:40 o'clock yesterday in the ripeness of old age and the fullness of the honors derived from a long and well spent life.

Mrs. Laura Prather was a native of Louisville, Kentucky, the daughter of Samuel Dickinson and Elizabeth Elliot. She was married early in life to William L. Prather, and with her husband and children came to California in 1872. In company with the families of E. G. Minor and George M. Prather, taking up their residence in this city, where she has since continued to reside.

SIX CHILDREN SURVIVE.

Mrs. Prather was in her 73rd year and was the mother of nine children, six of whom survive her, namely, Thomas Prather, Samuel D. Prather, William L. Prather, Jr., Mrs. Guy W. Waterbury, Mrs. L. Harrison Clay and Mrs. Dr. Harry H. Miller.

The decedent was very domestic in her habits and made no effort therefore to figure in society circles. She divided her time, in fact, exclusively between her family, to whom no mother was ever more devoted, and to the affairs of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, of which she was an earnest, unselfish and an ardent Christian worker. Her death creates an inexpressible void in both the home and the church circles.

The funeral services will be held at her late home, corner of Tenth and Filbert, at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Interment at Mountain View will be private.

GRAND JURY APPEARS TO BE TAKING THINGS EASY

Story Is Out That All Is Not Harmony Between Dan Ryan and Rudolph Spreckels.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19. — The Grand Jury is doing nothing these days and it is said there are small indications of the local inquisition having any more actual work before it. Some of the members have grown very weary and would like to adjourn, but are afraid to make any effort to secure that and on account of the "big stick."

It is understood that the inquisition may be kept in office until after the general election in November. After that they may be permitted to go as the bulk of the politics of the special grand jury prosecution will have been disposed of by that time.

There was a ray of light in the inquisitorial chamber the other day when a rumor was circulated that Francis J. Heney was going to make a tour to Europe. The story ran that he had become weary of harrying certain citizens and allowing self-confessed criminals to go free and felt the need of recreation and rest which it was thought he might obtain in foreign travel.

Just as some of the Grand Jurors were jubilating, the story of "Heney abroad" was succeeded by that of "Heney on the stump." The latter is the story of Hiram Johnson and Rudolph Spreckels will take the stump for Langdon for District Attorney this fall.

It seems that while Rudolph Spreckels is endeavoring to put Ryan out of political contention, John D. Spreckels and his son "Jack" — particularly the latter — are promoting the candidacy of the young candidate for the chief office of the municipality.

It is quite sure they did not," replied Mr. Tilford.

"Then, who elected the officers of these subsidiary companies?" asked Kellogg.

"They were elected by individual stockholders of those companies," answered Tilford.

"Kellogg took up the method of liquidating a company and showed the witnesses a certificate of incorporation made with John D. Rockefeller."

"This shows that John D. Rockefeller owned 25,000 shares out of a total of 42,000 shares of the company," said Kellogg.

"Is that correct?"

"I think so, according to the assignment," replied Tilford.

"Well, you are counsel for the trustees, were you not?"

"Then when you made out this assignment you transferred to Rockefeller his proportionate control of all the stocks of the subsidiary companies?"

"Yes," replied Tilford.

"Tilford showing the amount of stock of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey issued to John D. Rockefeller. The witness replied that he did not know."

ACCUSED OF LEAVING HIS CHILD-WIFE TO STARVE

Young Woman Found Dying in Squalor by Aunt and Taken to Her Home.

Starved to a mere wreck of a woman, her clothing hanging in rags and her health shattered by the inhuman treatment to which she has been subjected, the girl wife of Wm. Hannemeyer, a clerk in the employ of Olson's Market, lies dying at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Edith Sternberg, at 320 Thirty-sixth street, in this city. It is one of the most pitiful cases that has ever been brought to the attention of the authorities, as the victim of the husband's alleged cruelty is little more than a child.

MARRIED AT 16.

Hannemeyer, who is a shingler by trade, became acquainted with his present wife when she was an orphan protégée of her aunt, and in the face of opposition married the child when she was only 15 years of age. Soon afterward he is alleged to have commenced to ill-treat and cruelty which will probably result in her death. Two children were born of the union, a boy and a girl, who are now in the Fred Finch orphanage.

Several weeks ago the little wife was compelled to undergo a serious operation, from the effects of which she has never fully recovered, and since that time Hannemeyer is said to have treated her shamefully. He has contributed nothing toward her support, it is charged, and allowed her to live in some rooms on Twelfth street in the most abject squalor. She has been dependent on the generosity of kind neighbors for what food and clothing she received, and was almost starved to death when found by her aunt, Mrs. Sternberg, and taken to her home.

This morning Mrs. Sternberg swore out a warrant against Hannemeyer charging him with failure to provide and he was arrested this afternoon by Sergeant Mulgee and taken to the police station.

His case will be called tomorrow in Judge Tappan's court.

"It appears that the Chess-Carley Company signed that agreement; have you thought about that since I spoke to you last night?" asked Kellogg.

"No, I have not," replied Tilford, who yesterday testified that he had been a member of the Chess-Carley Company of Louisville before he became identified with the Standard Oil Company.

Tilford was asked when he signed the trust agreement. He replied that the trust agreement was signed by the Standard Oil Company of Ohio. Tilford said that he became identified with the Standard Oil Company of Ohio in 1878. He was a liquidating trustee and one of the trustees under the trust agreement, he said.

Tilford testified that between 1892 and 1899 the trustees received the dividends on the unliquidated stocks of the subsidiary companies and distributed the same to the holders of the trust certificates and the holders of the liquidating assignments. The trustees did not vote this subsidiary stock as they had done before the company underwent liquidation. Prior to 1892, Tilford said, the trustees voted the stock and elected the directors of all the subsidiary companies.

TILFORD NOT CERTAIN.

Kellogg again asked Tilford if it was not a fact that the liquidating trustees during the liquidation period voted the stock of the subsidiary companies whose stock was still unliquidated.

"I am quite sure they did not," replied Mr. Tilford.

"Then, who elected the officers of these subsidiary companies?" asked Kellogg.

"They were elected by individual stockholders of those companies," answered Tilford.

"Kellogg took up the method of liquidating a company and showed the witnesses a certificate of incorporation made with John D. Rockefeller."

"This shows that John D. Rockefeller owned 25,000 shares out of a total of 42,000 shares of the company," said Kellogg.

"Is that correct?"

"I think so, according to the assignment," replied Tilford.

"Well, you are counsel for the trustees, were you not?"

"Then when you made out this assignment you transferred to Rockefeller his proportionate control of all the stocks of the subsidiary companies?"

"Yes," replied Tilford.

"Tilford showing the amount of stock of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey issued to John D. Rockefeller. The witness replied that he did not know."

GOVERNOR AND MAYOR TO GREET QUEEN LIDA'S COURT

Float With Royal Party to Pass From First and Broadway to Idora Park.

The program for the opening night of the county carnival at Idora Park, which was completed by Maurice Stewart, has it in charge. It will be a brilliant pageant and will be carried out without regard for expense.

The ceremonies will open Monday at 8 o'clock in the evening when the royal train bearing the queen and her entourage will start from First and Broadway. The queen's float will be about 125 feet in length and will be built on three flat cars coupled together. It will be a chariot of gold, drawn by a team of four elephants. In the forward part will be a band with all members in specially prepared costumes.

QUEEN O' NTHRONE.

The queen, Mrs. Lida Singer, will be seated on a throne toward the rear of the float. She will be in her coronation robes of gold cloth and rich red velvet with ermine trimming. About her will be grouped the eight ladies of her court — Miss Vera Whelan of Oakland, Miss Gladys Adams of Berkeley, Miss Isabella Burdick of Fruitvale, Miss Frances Knox, Miss Margarette Colt of Alameda, Miss Hazel Dennis of Alameda, Miss Laura Miller of Pleasanton and Miss Carolyn Vail of Livermore.

Next the queen will be her prime minister who in this ceremony will be Captain Lida Singer of the Company A, Fifth Regiment. Her attendance also will be the Court Jester, the part to be taken by Elbert J. New.

THIRTY GUARDS.

There will be thirty guards, trumpeters and band members of the Elmhurst period and the pages bearing the crown, scepter and the symbols of royalty. A large number of flower girls will also attend the queen.

The queen's float is now being constructed at the car barns of the Oakland Transfer Company where the flat cars have been switched for the purpose. It is being built by Miss Grace W. Smith, built by Walter W. Smith and will be decorated by Charles R. Smith with all the defects also will work under the supervision of A. J. Jamison.

Queen Lida and her court ladies will have quarters at the Key Route Inn. There they will dress Monday evening.

Actual car will be in waiting to take the float to the foot of Broadway where the royal float will be ready to start. The queen will move up Broadway and out Telegraph avenue to the junction with Shattuck where it will switch off and go to the western entrance to Idora Park.

In the park the queen's throne will be constructed on the stage in the "Gladway." Leaving the float the queen and her court will proceed to the throne, with the band and the heralds in advance. She will be received by Mayor Alton. The Mayor will make a brief address of welcome and introduce Governor Alton who will deliver an opening address. At the conclusion of his remarks the governor will receive from the First Lady the diadem and crown on a velvet cushion. These he will deliver to Miss Hazel Dennis of Niles. First Lady of the court, who in turn will place them on the queen's head. From the Second Lady the governor will then take the scepter and pass it to the Prime Minister for presentation to the Queen.

This will close the coronation ceremony and for a half hour thereafter the queen and the Ladies of her Court will hold an informal reception on the "Gladway" stage.

JAPANESE DID NOT CHANGE BATH WATER

The committee appointed by the Board of Health to look into the unsanitary condition of the Japanese bath houses found more than they expected. It has been the custom in these places, on account of Japanese economy, for several persons to bathe in the same tub, without a change of the water, and with the possibility of a case of bubonic plague arising to which these people are very susceptible, this state of affairs has been a constant public menace. The Japs were warned to cease this practice and will be carefully watched to prevent a repetition.

ASSAULT CASE UP FOR TRIAL

German Charged With Attack on Woman Attempts to Prove Alibi.

Fred Miles, a German about 45 years of age, charged with a brutal assault upon Mrs. F. Wolfe, wife of a foreman at the Olivina Winery, near Livermore, last June, appeared in Judge Melvin's court this morning and through his attorney, Frank L. Rawson, asked for a continuance until Tuesday next, at which time the attorney expects to have in his hands a complete and satisfactory alibi for the prisoner, claiming that he was thirty miles away at the time the crime was committed.

On July 1st, Miles, who had been employed by Wolfe at the winery, was arrested on a charge of assaulting the foreman's wife. Miles was arrested at the Denver Hotel for pretension to the Queen.

This will close the coronation ceremony and for a half hour thereafter the queen and the Ladies of her Court will hold an informal reception on the "Gladway" stage.

INJURED BOY ASKS $25,000

Loses Hand in Planing Machine and Alleges He Was Not Warned.

A damage suit involving $25,000, was filed this morning by Abe P. Leach in behalf of William Keller, a fifteen-year-old boy whose mother, Elizabeth Daily, is guardian over his interests. The defendant to the suit is the California Door Company, a corporation of this State.

On February 11th, 1906, last young Keller applied at the cash mill for employment. The plaintiff avers that, knowing the dangerous character of the work, the defendant gave Keller a job of caring for one of their seven-blade planing machines, turning out balustrades, cornice work and other designs. With scarce any instruction and no warning at all, so it is claimed, the boy started to operate the knives and shortly afterwards caught his hand in the flying machinery. He was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where amputation of the right hand was found necessary.

Since then, the complaint states, the boy has been totally deprived of the use of his right arm, and will be permanently handicapped in whatever line of employment he may seek.

A FEW FACTS REGARDING SPRECKELS FINANCIERING

THAT the San Francisco Call, which is striving to keep Abe Ruef, Jim Gallagher, Tom Loneragan and their hoodling associates in the old Board of Supervisors from paying the penalty of their crimes in San Quentin, should have the hardihood to prate of honesty and question the integrity of others is amazing. It exhibits a degree of effrontery unmatched in any time and any country. Judas displaying his thirty pieces of silver and standing in the market as an exemplar of public and private virtue and rebuking sin would not present a more grotesque figure or excite greater loathing and contempt.

The Call stands for Spreckels and Spreckelsism. If one desires to know what Spreckelsism is, let him inquire in Honolulu, in Philadelphia, in San Francisco. In the Hawaiian Islands it recalls an unmatched story of broken faith and spoliation; of wealth wrung from servile toil and by oppression of the smaller planters; of infamous dickers with a rotten monarchy; of confidences betrayed and business associates dispoiled. One of the chapters relates to a family quarrel in which sons charged a father with theft, and the father charged sons with blackmail. Another relates to an attempt to gain a monopoly of the opium trade in the islands by pandering to the vices and whims of an ignorant and debased royal voluptuary.

In Philadelphia the name of Spreckels is held to be synonymous with all that is false, treacherous and degradingly avaricious. Under pretense of being engaged in a war to the death with the sugar trust, Claus Spreckels obtained a gift from the people of Philadelphia a large tract of water front property, valued at millions today, as a site for a refinery. This property was given on condition that Spreckels would never join or sell out to the sugar trust. After running the refinery a short time Spreckels sold out to the trust and has been in combination with it ever since. It is alleged that he gained six or seven millions by this shameful breach of faith. Many times have the Philadelphia papers related the story of this betrayal.

The history of the Oceanic Steamship Company reeks with dishonor and fraud. It is a tale of crooked financiering that can hardly be paralleled. By falsified financial statements and the payment of unearned dividends with money furnished by the Spreckelses the stock was boosted to $103 a share. Then it was unloaded on the public, many friends being induced to purchase by lying tips. Widows, school teachers, clergymen and others who were persuaded by false representations to buy the worthless stock are in extreme poverty today because the Oceanic Steamship Company was manipulated to defraud the public and enrich the Spreckels family.

The Call is now virulently assailing the Southern Pacific Railroad. For many years Claus Spreckels paid the Southern Pacific an annual subsidy to make a prohibitory rate on Eastern sugar shipped west of Salt Lake City. The investigation conducted by the Interstate Commerce Commission, headed by ex-Governor Pattison of Pennsylvania, brought that fact to light.

The betrayal of the public in the matter of the San Joaquin Valley Railroad is another example of the Spreckels method. By false representation rights of way and other valuable concessions were secured, including the lease from the State of China Basin on the San Francisco water front. When the public had been milked dry Spreckels sold the road to the Santa Fe, making an enormous sum by the deal. The rights of way, lands and leases donated by the public went to swell the Spreckels' millions, and the Santa Fe entered San Francisco under a pooling arrangement with the Southern Pacific.

A more recent example of the Spreckels' method was furnished by the Independent Lighting and Power Company. Under pretense of giving the people of San Francisco competition and cheaper rates for light, franchises were secured by favor of James D. Phelan, then mayor. The Spreckels' plant was in operation a short time when it was sold out at an immense profit to the old company, of which Rudolph Spreckels became the president. He was forced out of that position because some of his associates could not brook his methods and his domineering temper. He has pursued those associates ever since with persevering malignity.

Talk of the black flag! It ought to be flying over the Oceanic steamers and the Spreckels sugar refinery. It alone can be truly emblematic of a record of financial piracy that would challenge the admiration of Boss Tweed and Black Bart. Because Senator Perkins failed to get a government subsidy for the Oceanic steamers, which would sink under the load of swindled stockowners, he is being assailed like a pickpocket by the Spreckels organ.

The Call says W. E. Dargie went to New York to avoid having his deposition taken in a fake libel suit instigated by Rudolph Spreckels. He did not, but it is of no consequence if he did. At the worst it will compare favorably with the flight of Claus Spreckels to escape service when Rudolph Spreckels brought suit claiming his father had robbed him. It is nothing compared to the loss of memory displayed by Claus Spreckels when he was examined by a government attorney recently regarding his connection with the sugar trust. Spreckels pretended that he could remember none of the details, not even the price he received, of the sale of the Philadelphia refinery, including the land he had bunged the people of that city out of. The Spreckels memory like the Spreckels conscience and the Spreckels word, cannot be depended upon. Like the new Spreckels buildings in San Francisco, it is a class by itself.

The Spreckels Idea of Fusion.

An agreement of all the political parties in San Francisco to come together and nominate a ticket of representative citizens of character and independence who would devote themselves earnestly and singly to giving the city a clean, effective and progressive government would be the wisest and best thing that could happen. But every basis of fusion thus far suggested that does not allow Rudolph Spreckels to name the Mayor and District Attorney has been vetoed. If Mr. Spreckels is permitted to name these two officials the three political parties will be graciously permitted to divide the other offices up among their respective partisans. Fusion on such a basis is neither practicable nor wise.

Mr. Spreckels is the most ruthless and arbitrary of all the bosses who have undertaken to run the government of San Francisco. It is stated that he went around to the Police Commissioners in person and gave the order to make the malodorous Biggy Chief of Police. Then he sent the chief of his secret police, William J. Burns, around to further impress upon the Commissioners the wisdom of doing as they were told by Mr. Spreckels. Neither Spreckels nor the Commissioners consulted with Mayor Taylor in regard to the matter. By common consent, the Mayor was treated as a mere figurehead and Spreckels recognized as the real power in the municipality. If Mayor Taylor is to be believed, he was in profound ignorance of the scheme to make Biggy Chief of Police till it had been consummated. But he has never expressed any dissatisfaction at the choice of Biggy or the method by which he was elected.

The state in which Abe Ruef is held in custody depends upon Mr. Spreckels. He is the Providence that tempers the wind to the unshorn lamb in this instance, as he was the man who gave consent to the immunity contracts granted the hoodling Supervisors.

A fusion on terms agreeable to Mr. Spreckels therefore means endorsing the immunity contracts and the election of Biggy as Chief of Police; also the peculiar favor shown Abe Ruef, the arch criminal in the saturnalia of blackmail and hoodling through which San Francisco has passed. It also means the establishment of a Spreckels dictatorship and a continuance of the policy of doing politics in the labor unions with the patronage at the disposal of the municipal government. Even if the leaders of all the political parties were willing to prostrate themselves before the sugar trust Caesar, every consideration of public policy forbids establishing a dictatorship that has compounded the foulest of crimes against the State and the elevation of notoriously unfit men to the most responsible offices in the community.

Fire Department's Good Work.

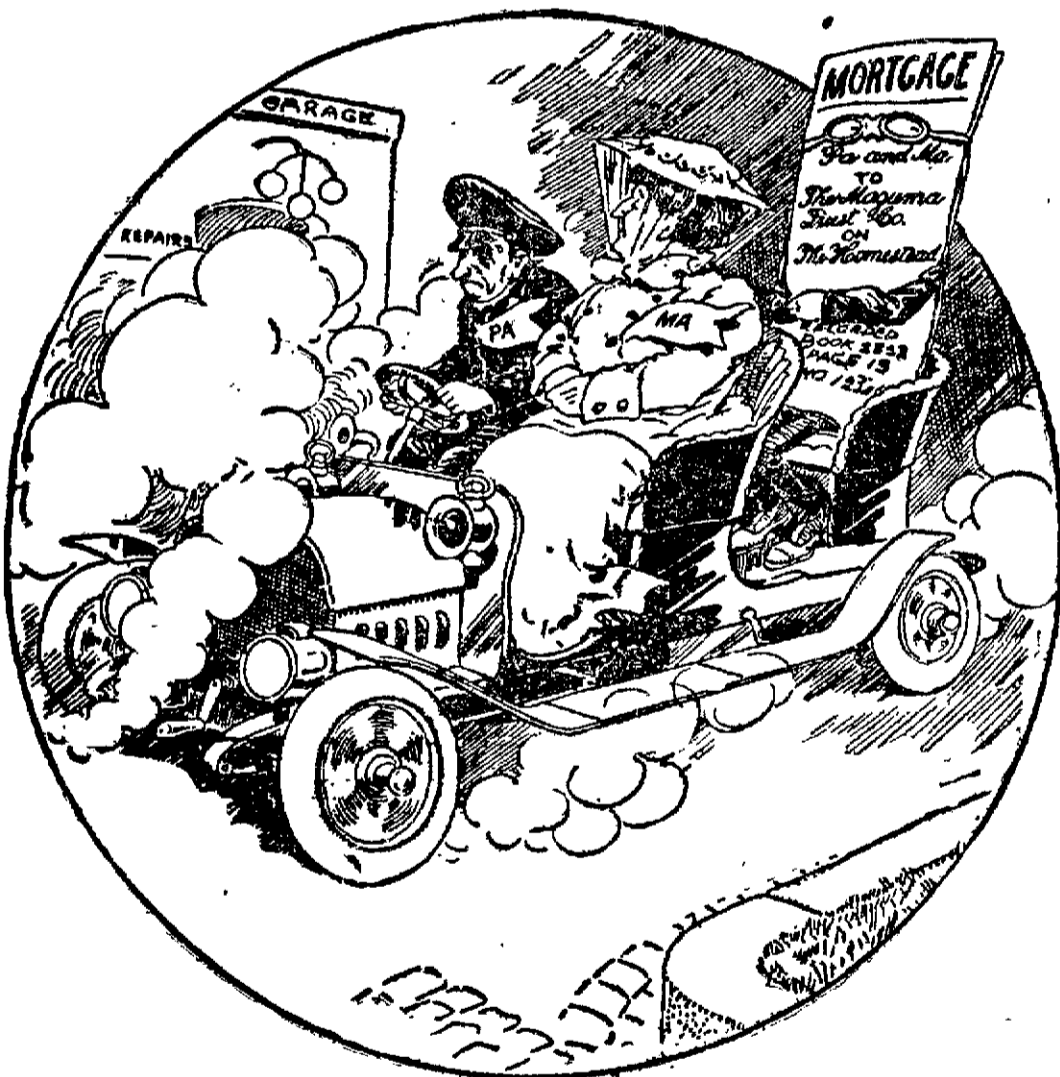

The ignition and explosion of the big crude oil storage tank of the gas company, at the foot of Grove street, yesterday morning, put the Oakland Fire Department to a supreme test. It was the first time in the department's history for it to encounter its enemy under such peculiar conditions. It came out of the trying ordeal triumphant.

Nothing but good judgment, prompt action and an intelligent utilization of the resources at the command of the department was what saved the day. The firemen had to contend with a flood of burning oil and a network of broken, sizzling and squirming live electric power wires, neither of which was controllable by the application of water. Indeed, the use of water only helped to make matters worse. It would have been like inviting instant death and an expansion of the work of destruction to have turned a stream of water on the broken live wires, for such a stream would have served as the best kind of a conductor for the current to follow. When a stream was turned on the burning oil it merely helped it to spread over the surrounding territory and enabled it finally to reach the estuary. Here the burning oil spread rapidly over the surface and the ebb tide at once put in jeopardy the whole line of wharves, lumber yards and industries occupying the water front west of the scene of the tank fire and representing many million dollars worth of property. Fighting a floating fire was something new, but the department was equal to the occasion and arrested its progress with the ebbing tide, although it could not extinguish it, and stopped any further flow into the creek by constructing an earth embankment around the burning oil tank. Nothing could be done after that was accomplished except to let the oil burn out and protect neighboring property from ignition. The services of the department must not be measured by the amount of property that was destroyed, but by the immeasurably greater value of the property which would have been inevitably lost had the attack on the fire been badly managed and the efforts of the department misdirected.

The incident has taught two important lessons; one is that the carrying overhead of electric power wires of high potentiality through the heart of the city is highly dangerous to life and property; the other is that electric wires of high potentiality should not be strung anywhere near oil storage tanks which, the experience of yesterday showed conclusively, serve to attract and short circuit these high currents with disastrous results.

The Oklahoma Election.

The sweeping victory of the Democrats in the Oklahoma election is not at all surprising. The inhabitants of the new State are largely of Southern birth and extraction and are naturally Democrats. The race question also cut both ways against the Republicans. A considerable number of colored voters cast Democratic ballots because of the Brownsville incident, while the Southern whites voted solidly Democratic. Moreover, the policy of the administration in relation to the Statehood question antagonized a large sentiment that would naturally incline to Roosevelt. Some resentment was felt because Oklahoma was yoked up with Indian Territory, and the effort to make Arizona and New Mexico come in as one State also provoked protest. Then Secretary Taft's speech denouncing the Oklahoma constitution, while justified by the character of that document, turned many voters away from the Republican ticket. The result is that the Democrats have elected their State ticket and the Legislature by a sweeping majority and carried four out of the five Congressional districts. This will add two more votes to the Democratic minority in the Senate and give the Democrats seven more sure votes in the Electoral College. In a national sense, however, the results of the election are unimportant, as they do not alter the political situation in the slightest degree and had been fully discounted in advance.

PARIS Sept. 19.—For a man to marry two women is not a rare occurrence but for him to retain notwithstanding, their undivided affection is not the lot of every bigamist. The exception is M. Cornu, who has two wives, both of whom declare that they love him in spite of his deception.

For twelve years Cornu had been married to Marie Fouillet, considerably his senior, and whom he had, in this or other ways, kept practically abandoned when he met the second Marie whose surname was Lamoureux. He married Marie No. 2 in January 1903 despite his living wife. But Nemesis in the shape of his sister-

In law, ever took him and the faithless Cornu had to answer to a charge of bigamy before the courts. His plea was that he was unaware that a man might not marry two wives to which he added coercion on the part of his second wife's parents as an excuse.

Then came a surprise for when the two Minnes Cornu were called they both declared that they still loved the culprit and were ready to pardon him. Thereupon the jury, with its tears with those of the repentant husband. This so moved the jury that they acquitted Cornu perhaps judging it the severest punishment to leave him to the tender mercies of his loving spouses.

Manila telephone subscribers feel that through living in a house the average American believes to be a semi-barbarous land the rest of the world has no edge on them in being served by comely maidens as hello girls. The Filipino telephone operator comes from the best families of her land and takes work more so proudly than her fair-skinned sister of the Occident. She has her servant who is also charged to accompany her to the office carrying her bag and who calls to chaperon her back to the security of her home when the gong rings on her day's work.

The Spanish custom of never permitting an unmarried woman above the age of 12 years to leave the portals of her casa unaccompanied still prevails with both Spaniards and Filipinos of the better class. Their employment as telephone operators permits no relaxation of the watchful care a wise father in the Kansas City Star

The fact that the field of labor made from domestic service for the Filipino girl is so limited makes employment in this line especially desirable of the well-to-do Filipino. Then to be a hello girl in the Philippine is an honor carrying with it prestige and entry into the best social circles.

So service central in Manila a girl must speak and understand English, Spanish and Tagalog and some of them possess a working knowledge of Chinese, Japanese and other oriental tongues.

It is chief among the American woman-of-the-recently-established-Manila that she that the Filipino girls employed as operators are very apt and intelligent and are rapidly developing a most satisfactory service. They receive, as beginners a salary of 20 pesos ($10) per month which is increased to twice that amount on their becoming proficient.

As the word is given, it is taken in for the Filipino girl it is often necessary for an impatient customer to curb his temper when telephoning. But the tones of the dialect voiced operator Dhe-lyne are sweeter than soothers to the patience

Charles Wadro, a wealthy shirt waist manufacturer of No 11 East One Hundred and Sixteenth street, makes a remarkable low bargain offer. Mrs. Margaret Gelbert forsaken spouse of a well to do shirt manufacturer, of No 236 East Seventeenth street, is just as enthusiastic in displaying the domestic red flag.

WHILE HUSBAND WAS AWAY
For a long time I didn't mind even when he came while I was away said Wadrow with a sigh. "But when I found him choosing the times he knew I would be away I thought his calls should be stopped and told him so."

I won't give that husband of mine anything except a closed door
The other woman is welcome to him
She won't keep him long

They and their friends were wondering last night what effect the diametrically opposing messages would have upon the skeptics when they read the terms. If she wants to return to her husband Mr. Wadro must leave in the lurch her companion Mr. Gelbert and all hope of a general reconciliation for Mr. Gelbert's son wanted at home at all. Judging from this wife's manner when she issued her dictum he'll have to face druder things than she would be allowed to show him.

But it did no good. My wife went to see him instead. And she met him at various places whenever he sent for her. So three weeks ago, as a last resort, I gave her some money and sent her to the country for a long vacation. I hoped that absence might make her forget Gelbert. It only resulted in her accusing me of jealousy, and saying she would never

NEW YORK Sept 19.—For the first time since a serious illness brought her tour to a sudden end last spring Miss Fritzl Scheff appeared on the stage last week. The opera was "Mlle Modiste" in which she has been singing successfully for nearly two years, and the scene of her time and the applause continuing she stood nervously kissing her hands to the audience.

When finally she was allowed to go on her voice was so husky for a few minutes she could scarcely be heard but she was quickly her sprightly self again and sang and acted with all her old time spirit.

York There was a very large audience to welcome the prima donna and her entrance in the role of Fifi the shop girl was the signal for as hearty a greeting as her best friends could have wished. The little singer was quite overcome. She was kept bowing for what seemed a long time and the applause continuing she stood nervously kissing her hands to the sky.

When finally she was allowed to go on her voice was so husky for a few minutes she could scarcely be heard but she sang quickly her sprightly self again and she sang and acted with all her old time spirit.

Her voice showed the good effect of her long rest.

After the first act there was another demonstration when after the curtain had been raised nearly a dozen teachers carried forward immense bouquets and baskets of flowers and passed them across the footlights.

Only Daughter of Kaiser Not Allowed to Have Shiny Adornments

BERLIN Sept. 13.—For the autumn review of the fleet Princess Victoria Louise, only daughter of the emperor, ordered a naval costume which pleased her in every way except as to the buttons, which did not seem worthy of the dress. The dress maker suggested that they should be replaced by others which she showed and which were worth a shilling each. The price appeared to be too high for the princess who said she must first ask her papa. When the dressmaker returned in the evening to hear the decision the princess said her father would not let her have the buttons. He said they were too dear and that she must not be extravagant. The princess wore for the review the pretty dress with the despised buttons.

Mrs. Roosevelt Soon to Return, and All Signs Point to Merry Social Season at Washington During Coming Winter

WASHINGTON Sept. 19.—All signs point to the merriest kind of a season this year. It may be the last one of the interesting Roosevelt family in the position of the leaders. Whether it is or not, the White House will be the enter of the social stage. Mrs. Roosevelt will return to the White House earlier than usual. While this does not mean the gaieties will begin then, porch parties at the White House will be interesting. The informal luncheons drives walks and dinners when personal friends meet the chief executive unofficially are charming.

Society in Washington in the twentieth century is vastly different from the thirteenth century. There are no more private parties in these days many more private entertainments in the White House than ever before. Mrs. Roosevelt gives lun-merable teas, musicales and small luncheons and the President and she have more private dinners than any occupants of the mansion except perhaps former President Arthur who was a great dinner host. There are also a greater number of wealthy New Yorkers as frequent White House guests during the present administration than ever before.

EBELL MUSICALS.
A large and much interested audience it was that assembled in the Ebell auditorium Tuesday night in response to Ebell's invitation to come and hear some songs and other musical works by the composition pupils of W. J. McCoy.

The writing of music is an art apart from the work of the ordinary music student and the pleasure of the ordinary music lover, and Tuesday night's program was a distinct novelty. All of the works were played from the original scores.

Among those whose music was represented were S. B. Christy of the College of Engineering, University of California, Miss Edith Treanor, Miss Rita Slater, E. G. Stricklen, Mrs. Ruth Taylor, Llewellyn Hughes and W. J. McCoy.

Among the musicians who interpreted the new works were Miss Catherine Belle McCoy, soprano; Vail Bakewell, tenor; J. T. Preston, tenor; H. A. Cram, baritone; P. J. Oakes, bass; Nathan Landsberger, violinist.

VAUDEVILLE EVENING.
A unique entertainment was provided by Branch No. 37 of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society for Friday evening, and a large and nice audience was present to enjoy it. The affair was given at the home of Mrs. C. H. O'Connor, Eighth and Oak streets.

Burlesque features were provided and some startling and original ideas were worked into the program. Miss Lucie Donovan, reader and teacher of expression, had a burlesque elocution class, the members of which did such old school room favorites as "Sheridan's Ride," "Maud Muller," "The May Queen," "Arnold Winkelried" and "The Maniac."

The costumes and stage properties were exceedingly funny. Later the ladies did a "Raggy-Jig Song," which was also very amusing.

BUSINESS TOPICS.

A very interesting wedding was that of Miss Kathryn C. Dowling and James Slattery, solemnized Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in St. Anthony's Church, East Oakland. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father McHugh.

The wedding was a very quiet affair, owing to a recent bereavement in the home of the bride, but a number of friends of the family assembled in the church at the appointed hour.

The bride wore a gray traveling gown, and her attendant, Miss Gertrude Dowling, also wore a street costume. George Dowling, a brother of the bride, acted as best man.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Forum, only the relatives attending. COUNTRY CLUB LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Frederick Stratton was hostess at a luncheon given at the Country Club today. The affair was given for Mrs. Silas Gregory, Mrs. Stratton's mother, who is going away next week.

Covers were laid for twelve, and the round table was prettily decorated, a large centerpiece of yellow and white giving color to the decorating scheme.

Mrs. Stratton's guests were Mrs. Philip von Loben Seis, Mrs. Henry Clay Taft, Mrs. John L. Howard, Mrs. Harry Gordon, Mrs. Timothy Barker, Mrs. E. M. Walsh, Miss Jennie Wheaton, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. Allen Babcock, Mrs. Frank Weston and the guest of honor, Mrs. Silas Gregory.

Mrs. Gregory has been a guest at the Stratton home, having come to attend the wedding of Miss Cornelia Stratton and Carlton Parker, an important event of early September.

RECEPTION.

Mrs. William S. Noyes is to give a large reception at her home in Summit street this Saturday in compliment to Mrs. Albert Edward Thelan. Mrs. Thelan is a new addition to local society, coming as the bride of Dr. A. E. Thelan, who is well known in San Francisco.

Dr. and Mrs. Thelan were married in New York some months ago and have spent the intervening time traveling abroad. They have now taken possession of a charming home in Berkeley, and this reception will serve to introduce this very interesting young matron to a set where she will undoubtedly be warmly welcomed. About two hundred cards have been sent out for the affair.

Mrs. Noyes will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. D. E. Noyes, Mrs. M. C. Noyes, Mrs. Edward C. Morrison, Mrs. W. S. Watson, Mrs. E. W. Stebbins, Mrs. Hayward Thomas, Mrs. Edward von Adelung and Mrs. Stuart Smith.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kellogg of Grove street announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Abba O. Kellogg, to Arthur H. Proctor, formerly of Boston, but now in business on the coast. No plans for the wedding have been complete, but it is probable that the wedding will be an early winter event. The young people will live in this city.

DAY OF WEDDINGS.

Two mid-day weddings and two evening marriages marked Wednesday as an important day on the social calendar.

After Maxine Darty and Leonard Clark Davis were married at an early hour in the afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The hour was changed from noon to 2 o'clock in order to give time to the Rev. Mr. Allen, who came up from Carmel-by-the-Sea to officiate. The wedding was a pretty affair, though very simple. The bride wore her traveling gown, and the dresses of her attendants, Mrs. C. E. Alley and Miss Elaine Davis, were chosen to harmonize with its brown tones.

Herbert Peck of Oakland attended Mr. Davis as best man.

A reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. B. Kessler, of 1020 Jackson street, followed the ceremony. Mr. Davis has taken his bride south on a honeymoon trip.

At 5 in the evening Elizabeth Barnes Hinman and John Chilton Veltch were married at Trinity Church by the Rev. Clifton Macon. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with a profusion of Shasta daisies banked most artistically, making a most pleasing effect in the soft light of the late afternoon.

About seventy friends were present.

The bride wore a gown of handsome lace over white satin, and a large picture hat with white plumes completed a most effective costume. There were no attendants, and only the music of the organ, but the simple ceremony was impressive and beautiful. The bride was given away by her brother, H. L. Hinman.

Less than a score of friends and relatives were present at the home after the ceremony, a supper was served and Mr. and Mrs. Veltch departed, keeping the secret of their destination. On their return they will make their home in Oakland. A number of beautiful wedding gifts bear testimony to the high esteem in which the young people are held.

An Alameda wedding of interest was that of Miss Beatrice Benson and Albert Moser. This was a home affair at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Benson, of Broadway, Alameda.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large company of friends by the Rev. E. W. Darty of the First Christian Church. Mrs. William Hosford, a sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor.

A Palo Alto wedding to which many guests from the bay cities were bidden was that of Miss Ethel C. Wright and Dr. Allen Peck of San Francisco. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. G. Alexander Wright, and attracted much attention both here and in the bride's home town, Dr. and Mrs. Peck will live in San Francisco.

AFTERNOON AT BRIDGE.

Mrs. H. A. Williams entertained at bridge Tuesday afternoon at her pretty home in Warring street, Berkeley. A score of friends were bidden for the afternoon, which was made highly enjoyable for all who attended.

CARD AFTERNOON.

Fifty guests were entertained at cards at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Bangs on Monday. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the game.

RETURN FROM WEDDING TRIP.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Seth Williams (Mary Swift Barley) have returned from their wedding trip and are spending a few days with friends in Berkeley, prior to leaving for their home at the Boston navy yard.

LUNCHEON.

Luncheon and an hour on the croquet grounds made a very pleasant afternoon, arranged by Mrs. M. Jacobson, of Hannah street, in honor of her friend, Mrs. Otto Wemmer, who is soon to leave for the South. About a dozen friends enjoyed Mrs. Jacobson's hospitality.

DENT-WOLFF.

Miss Edith Darty Dent, daughter of Mrs. John F. Soule, of Alameda, is to be married in November to Lionel A. Wolff. Mr. Wolff is a San Francisco man, and is coast manager for a large eastern firm. Miss Dent is a very attractive girl, very popular on this side of the bay. The wedding will take place at the home of the Soules in Central avenue.

EVENING AFFAIR.

About fifty guests are invited for Saturday evening, the 21st, to the home of Mrs. M. Nelson on East Twenty-first street. Miss Marie Nelson will assist her mother in doing the honors of the evening, and they will also have a receiving party made up of Mrs. M. K. Bole, Mrs. T. H. Stevenson, Miss Eva Gunn and Miss Swamey.

Mrs. William Dodge of Alameda entertained on Wednesday at her home in Clement street. The affair was quite informal, the guests having come together merely for the purpose of enjoying a social afternoon.

Mrs. M. E. Brown of Grove street has left for the East on a trip which will cover Chicago, Detroit and other large cities. Mrs. Brown is to visit friends and relatives.

Mrs. Charles J. Woodbury, who has been spending the summer at Santa Cruz with her daughter, Miss Ruth Woodbury, has returned. Mrs. Woodbury is very active in club and social life.

McREYNOLDS-DOWELL.

Much interest is expressed in the engagement of Roy B. Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Howell, formerly of Oakland, and Miss Myra McReynolds of New York. Mr. Howell is the New York representative of the firm of Paul Elder and Company, having offices in San Francisco and New York. He was a member of the class of '00 at the University of California and was one of the most interesting figures in the college life of his university year, taking active part in athletics, fraternity life and the musical and literary interests of the Berkeley set.

He is a brother of Mrs. H. N. Miner of Berkeley, Mrs. L. T. Haskell of Oakland, and Mrs. Fletcher Ames of Contra Costa county.

Miss McReynolds is a sister of Congressman Wilshire, a New York magazine publisher. She is said to be accomplished and very attractive. No date is set for the wedding, but it will probably be an event of November or early December.

OAKLAND CLUB.

Mrs. Reginald Dacre Holmes was hostess at the Oakland Club yesterday and acquitted herself in a manner that was highly creditable to all present. Mrs. Holmes is one of the younger members of the club and has not before presided, so her success of yesterday was a subject of general congratulation.

The following interesting program was arranged by the hostess:

Piano solo, "Scherzo," Miss Nellie Murphy (By Mendelssohn).

Address, "What Women Have Done Towards Good Government".....

.....Counsellman Harold Everhart

Violin solo, "Legend".....

.....Miss Kittie Webster (Wienlawski)

Soprano solo, "Counsel to Nina".....

.....Miss Grace Kidwell (Wercklin)

Reading, "The New Epoch".....

.....Miss Lillian Swale

Solos—(a) "Among the Heather," (Metcalf)

(b) "Deep in the Rose's Glowing Heart," (Nevin)

.....Miss Kidwell (With violin obligato.)

Piano solo, "Harmonious Blacksmith".....

.....Miss Murphy (Handel)

Mr. Everhart spoke most inspiringly on the part that women may play in the development of good government, making a strong point of the belief that it is in organizations like the Oakland Club that the power of woman's influence can best make itself effective. His words were received with deep interest and warm applause.

Miss Lenore Crounch, a visitor from one of the San Francisco clubs, was called upon and made some very witty and pertinent remarks, which justified her reputation as a clever impromptu speaker.

Mrs. J. K. Ritter is chairman of the reception committee and will be assisted by Mrs. J. R. Barstow, Mrs. J. M. Bartlett, Miss M. L. Wooler, Mrs. John Conant, Mrs. O. B. Caldwell, Dr. C. S. Aldrich, Mrs. C. H. Atkins, Mrs. Fred Dossaz, Mrs. J. Torney, Mrs. F. W. Lanfer, Mrs. E. B. Webster and Mrs. F. R. Chadwick.

DINNER PARTY.

Miss N. E. Lamb was the guest of honor at a dinner given by Mrs. W. B. Pierce at her cozy home at 1116 Ninth avenue, East Oakland, last Saturday evening.

Covers were laid for nine. After the dinner music and singing were enjoyed and the evening passed most pleasantly. Miss Lamb is a frequent guest at the home of the Pierces and is very popular in local circles.

AGAIN IN OAKLAND.

Friends of Mrs. E. W. Woodard, formerly Miss Mabel Glass, will be pleased to hear of her return to Oakland today, after a three months' sojourn in Nevada, where her husband has mining interests. Mrs. Woodard will be at home to her friends at 1610 Ninth avenue.

STEINWAY AND OTHER PIANOS
VICTOR TALKING MACHINES

THE STEINWAY PIANO IS THE MASTER KEY OF MUSIC
—All music may be produced in a more or less pleasing manner on a piano of any make; but its inner meaning may be only known, its richest treasures may be only revealed, its true-beauty may be only discovered, when it is executed on the perfect piano—the Steinway.
—Great musicians occasionally find something good to say of this or that piano, and at times try to display their art through the indifferent medium of imperfect pianos, but the spontaneous outburst of their praise is given only to the Steinway, just as the fullest measure of their art becomes known only through the assistance of a Steinway.
—The Steinway is the master key of music. To the beginner, to the student, to the amateur, to the virtuoso it is an open sesame to a new world of delight.

ARTISTANO RECITAL TOMORROW EVENING

Commented Upon by Tacoma, Seattle, Everett,
Wash., and Portland, Or.—Highest Praise
for Mr. Longwell and Mr. Hemstreet

MR. FRANK HEMSTREET—Barytone, of New York City,
Appearing at Ebell Hall, Friday Evening, September 20.

In fine art, and especially in music, the mechanical player has been held in more or less contempt by musicians and very little feared. The writer can remember very distinctly when one of the first concerts were given by the aid of a mechanical player. At that time it was impossible in any way to interest teachers of music. But the musician, that is to say, the teacher, who has reached a certain standard in his or her profession has overlooked the essential fact that musical emotion is not the possession of the gifted few. The technical expression belongs to the musician alone. It has not been possible for more than a small majority of the population to study music to the highest degree.

Now that musical expression of the most technical quality has been placed within the reach of us all, without years of tedious preparation, by the invention of the Artistano, musicians and teachers are trying to study out the best use, and to what learning the mechanical players can be appropriated by them.

The Seattle Sunday Times says: "Mr. Longwell and the Artistano, the new player grand piano, which was heard for the first time in the West last night, was the central attraction, and all the promises made prior to the concert were fulfilled. There was no feeling of tedium, no trace of the mechanical in any of the numbers. In the great masterpieces all of the beautiful shadings were brought out in a delightful manner, and the accompaniments played to Mr. Hemstreet's solo established for the Artistano a prestige for artistic work which will long be remembered by the large gathering of musical people."

Of Mr. Frank Hemstreet, barytone, of New York City, the writers significantly have had times to say enough in regard to his most pleasing voice. Mr. Hemstreet, who comes to us from New York with a reputation that has preceded him, has a magnificent barytone voice, exceptionally artistic temperament and a manner which is most fascinating, and which never fails to win the admiration of his audience. Few soloists have been more appreciated than his "Wind in the Trees," by Goring-Thomas, this calling forth a hearty and warm applause. Later on in the program he sang Massenet's "Vistone Fugitiva," from Herodiade, and again called forth warm applause, to which he responded with encore, "Drink to Mr. Only With Thine Eyes."

Mr. Hemstreet will be accompanied by Mr. Longwell on the Artistano in all of his solos, and this itself shows the value of the instrument in accompaniment, as well as solo work.

The program tomorrow evening will be as follows:

Waltz, Op. 34, No. 1, Moskowski
Mr. Pierce.
Aria—Honor and Arms, "Samson"
Rhapsodie Hongroise, No. 12, Liszt
Menuet de La Torre, Lillian Miller
Wendy in the Trees, Goring-Thomas
Lend Me Thy Pillow, Love, Brockway
Almeida, Almeida
Berceuse, Op. 27, Moskowski
Aria—Erl tu, "Un Ballo en Maschera"
Verdi
Pierrette (Air de Ballet, Op. 30)
Chantade
A Song of Thanksgiving, Althea
The Artistano concert to be given tomorrow evening in Ebell Hall, at 8:15 o'clock, is by courtesy of Sherman, Clay & Company.

POWER SOON IS RESTORED

Company Does Fast Work After Oil Tank Fire is Quenched.

The Oakland Light, Heat & Gas company, in spite of all the wreckage and damage caused by the big fire of yesterday in the burning of the 50,000 barrel oil tank, restored lighting service for residences, business houses, also the 500 volt direct current for elevators and the three phase power for general distribution by 5:45 o'clock the same afternoon. As soon as the blazing oil was got under control, large crews of men were charged with the task of clearing away the debris, removing damaged machinery, installing new insulators and drying the engines, pump, switchboards, generators and transformers. Any one who showed any disposition to exert himself in the least was given occupation.

SPLENDID WORK.
The rapidity with which the normal condition of the huge plant was put into shape was not only a source of great satisfaction to those who depend so much upon electric power, but also was generally commented upon by all who witnessed the havoc and destruction.

Upon inspection this morning of the extent of loss, it was found that the new armature, fields and insulating material in the generator were greatly damaged. The huge piece of machinery cost $20,000, and had a capacity of generating 30,000 volts. One of the transformers was rendered useless on account of water, but luckily the step-down transformer which reduces the high tension voltage to a workable basis is in just as good condition as before.

Oil used for feeding the engines is obtained from the gas works.

EFFICIENT DEPARTMENT.
G. E. Furness, in speaking of the disaster paid loyal tribute to the admirable work of the fire department and to the zeal of the company's employees.

He also stated that the corporation intends rebuilding another large oil tank and are making preparations to enlarge the plant.

Buy on the Line of Progress—Buy at Foothill Park

Within one mile of FOOTHILL PARK the Western Pacific Car Shops are situated; the Southern Pacific shops and the largest Harvester Factory in the United States are close by. The workers in these factories have built homes all around FOOTHILL PARK.

Don't wait until all improvements are made; don't wait until rapid transportation is in operation, for then YOU will have to pay to those who got in on the ground floor at first prices.

FOOTHILL PARK combines all the conditions that a shrewd investor would seek, with ideal conditions as a home site.

"Foothill Park the Beautiful"

FOOTHILL PARK is on the scenic Boulevard which runs from Oakland to Hayward. It is the finest boulevard in California.

It is just these factors that go to make FOOTHILL PARK such an attractive home-site.

FOOTHILL PARK lots are $300 and upwards—large lots with all improvements included in this price.

FOOTHILL PRICES ARE BASED ON PRESENT CONDITIONS. Every future development means a rise in value. And rapid transit is bound to come soon.

The proposed Key Route extension will run within a stone's throw of FOOTHILL PARK. Then, Mr. Investor, how much do you think your lot will be worth?

HOW TO GET THERE

Take San Leandro or Hayward car, get off at Estudillo Avenue, where autos will be in waiting to take you to the Tract. Our Agents will be on the grounds, from whom full information can be obtained.

The Drawing for the Lot in the FOOTHILL TRACT, Given Away by the BRALEY-GROTE FURNITURE CO., Will Take Place About 3 O'clock, Saturday, Sept. 21st

FOOTPADS BEAT AND THEN ROB THEIR VICTIM

LABORER IS HELD UP AND HIS WAGES ARE TAKEN

Victim Knows Who His Assailants Were, but He Refuses to Prosecute the Robbers.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Frank Wilson, a laborer, is demanding the loss of part of his week's salary and nursing a badly battered countenance as the result of being held up by two footpads on Howard street, near Fourth, at an early hour this morning.

Wilson had been paid off yesterday and decided to go out and have a good time. He visited all the saloons in the neighborhood of his home, 316 Clara street, and about 4 o'clock this morning, while endeavoring to find his whereabouts, he was set upon and beaten by two men who robbed him of his remaining cash amounting to about $10.

Wilson thinks he knows the footpads, but would give no information to the authorities at the Central Emergency hospital, saying that he did not wish to prosecute them.

WANT DIRECT LINE TO ALASKA

S. F. Shippers Plan to Make Bid for $15,000,000 Trade to Nome.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Local shipping men are discussing a plan of inaugurating a line of steamers from San Francisco to Alaskan points.

That the plan will go through before the Nome season is again opened and that California will make a bid for the $15,000,000 trade of the Alaska route, is now the belief of practically all the big transportation men. W. E. Pearce, general manager of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, as does Captain Burgess of Barneson, Tibbalds company, representative of the Alaska-Frisco Steamship company operating vessels from San Francisco to Seattle, expresses the belief that the plan is not only feasible but that it could be successfully put in force. It is pointed out by shippers, who have for years sailed northern waters, that a vessel can make the run from Nome to San Francisco in practically the same time required to go to Seattle and with less danger to the ship.

ROCK BOTED COAST.

This happens by reason of the fact that navigation from Cape Platter is not only difficult but the lack of able to navigate is a serious menace to the coast. The Vancouver Island coast in which more disastrous wrecks have occurred than any other point in the United States is protected by but few lights, a poor quality, as is so the entrance to the straits of Juan de Fuca. Added to this the charts are none too accurate according to shippers.

This fact was brought out when the Pacific coast steamer ship company's line, Valencia, went down on Vancouver Island and 135 lives were lost, although the ship hung on the rocks in plain view for two days.

The run down the straits and through Puget Sound must usually be made under a slow bell. This makes the trip take much longer than would otherwise be required. At the present time practically all the freight shipped to Nome and other Alaskan points from California goes by the way of Seattle, adding the additional expense of water or rail transportation to the high northern tariff. This season the steamship industry has been in the Nome run from San Francisco. From Seattle there has been operated between seventeen and twenty steamships and many sailing vessels to Nome.

ORDERS FOR LOCAL FIRMS. A large amount of the 150,000 tons of freight sent to Nome this year has gone from San Francisco and Oakland. Many of the northern merchants allege that Seattle jobbers fail to treat the trade fairly or to fill their orders in a desirable manner. They have intimated that if it were possible to secure goods in San Francisco direct the orders would be placed here.

Owing to the absence of a direct line of steamships, this has been impossible. Aside from the Nome and Seward peninsula trade which lasts only during the summer months, the trade with the eastern Alaska, Sitka, Ketchikan, Wrangle and other points is becoming of great importance. The southeastern Alaska steamships run all the year round. At the present time the Alaska Steamship company and the Pacific Coast Steamship company monopolize the southeastern Alaska trade. It is the aim of the local men to break this monopoly and bring part of this immense business to California.

BISHOP NEELEY MAY SPEAK SUNDAY NIGHT

BERKELEY, Sept. 19.—Bishop Thomas B. Neeley of the Buenos Ayres Episcopacy, who presided at the recent conference at Pacific Grove, will in all probability deliver an address in Berkeley next Sunday evening. Hearing that he was to deliver the dedicatory address at the Telegraph Avenue Church in Oakland next Sunday, Rev. George Henry, pastor of the Trinity M. E. Church, extended an invitation to Bishop Neeley to speak in his church, which was accepted.

Dr. Henry also called attention this morning in an interview to the list of delegates who have been appointed to the General Conference at Baltimore, which will be held next May. The six delegates who will represent this district are Rev. Freeman D. Howard, editor of the Advocate; Rev. W. C. Evans; Rev. W. S. Matthews; Rev. E. J. Bennett, pastor of Wesley Church, San Francisco; Rev. Angwin of Vallejo, and R. Dille of Central Church of San Francisco.

YOUNG MEN TO THE FRONT

Old Leaders of Standard Oil Turning Over Control to Their Sons.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Wall Street generally believes that a new era in the personnel of the Standard Oil Company's leadership is beginning. It is thought that the younger element in the great corporation is coming to the front and that the older element is relinquishing its active hold upon the affairs of the company and those of vast interest which have been affiliated with it. John D. Rockefeller Jr., William G. Rockefeller, John H. Broughton, a son in law of H. H. Rogers, and H. H. Rogers Jr. are among the younger men who are looked upon by the street as now directing affairs.

William Rockefeller is regarded as likely to take a principal part still in the company's councils but most of the other men who have been called the makers of the Standard Oil Co., including John D. Rockefeller Sr., John D. Atchison and H. H. Rogers, are expected hereafter to leave to their juniors the task of handling the giant business which they founded.

What leads to this is the recent decision of the directors of the Amalgamated Copper Company to cut down the output of mines to half the normal. It is held that this is a departure from the policy which was pursued several years ago when the copper market was declining and that it signifies that the younger element is in control.

Urban H. Broughton is deemed a particularly interesting figure in the new order of things. Mr. Broughton is an Englishman who came to this country as a mining engineer. He married the daughter of H. H. Rogers, and was put in charge of the United Metals Selling Company, through which the Amalgamated and a number of other copper producers sell all their metal.

FREIGHT MEN ARE UNITED

Means New Order of Things in Solving Much Vexed Problem.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—A long step forward in the simplification of the freight situation throughout the United States was taken yesterday at a meeting in the Central freight association headquarters. The joint committee composed of representatives from the three classification territories decided on unification and within thirty days a new committee will be appointed to undertake the solution of this problem.

The difficulties arising from diversified classification have been many and various. Only recently the Interstate Commerce Commission suggested that since the different classification of freight in different parts of the country had been responsible for a large part of the friction between shipper and carrier it would be wise to adopt one that would apply generally.

DIFFICULT TASK. The task presented to this new committee will be a difficult one. Roads operating east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio, and Potomac use what is known as the official classification; those south of the Ohio and Potomac and east of the Mississippi the southern classification and those west of the Mississippi the western classification, while not the least difficult position in this revision is to find a basis that will be equitable to roads operating under dissimilar circumstances.

TILLMAN WARMS ON JAPANESE

Declares Asiatics Should Stay in Asia and Negro Problem in Grave.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The people of the Pacific Coast were given assurance last night by Benjamin R. Tillman that he was with them in the fight for the exclusion of Asiatics, at the Dreamland rink, where an audience of about 3000 persons assembled to hear the distinguished South Carolina statesman speak upon the race question. He said:

"If the people of California and the Pacific Coast do not want to welcome the Japanese to these shores; if you foresee in their coming danger to your civilization, and you wish to exclude them for this reason, I am with you. I believe in the doctrine of America for Americans, and for white Americans. There is room on the mainland of A-ba for the Japanese, and their colonization should be in that direction."

BEVERLY CRITICISMS. "While I have sympathized with you Californians in this Japanese controversy, however, I could not but feel that you were imprudent, and damnable injustices, because you allowed negro children to attend the same schools as the white children, but you excluded the Mongolians, and in his capability as a man, in industry, courage, scientific attainments and stonemasonry the Japanese is no much less than the negro as the latter is above the laborer."

The race problem was defined by the speaker as "the relationship and status between the white and black races in America."

COST IS DEAR. In part he said: "We have paid dearly to settle this problem and made desperate efforts to do so. The war of 1891 to 1895, in which we offered up for sacrifice 500,000 men, the flower of our youth, was an attempt to settle the race problem, but we are still working at it, although a blow and a orphan have shed enough tears over it for us to swim in. Now I am going to tell you the truth about it, however bitter it may be, and if you don't like it, you have to take your medicine."

COURT VIEWS HOTEL SITE

Judge Ellsworth Views Claremont Ground, Said to be Held Wrongfully.

Judge John Ellsworth took an automobile ride this morning and spent the hours wandering through the grounds of the Claremont Hotel. His Honor, however, was not on pleasure bent. In fact he was surrounded on all sides by attorneys, witnesses and complainants who endeavored to prove that Messrs. Tins et al., who purchased the land where the new hotel is to be built, have, or have not, dealt fairly with Mrs. Ballard, former owner of the property.

SAYS AGREEMENT NOT KEPT. The suit, which is one of equity, was begun by attorneys for Mrs. Ballard who, after the Claremont foundation were laid, a Plaintiff claims that the hotel people agreed, when suit was made, that an easement through the grounds would be left, giving her access to her home, which lies behind the hotel.

But now states that the hotel building stands upon the ground originally set aside for her, and that the route substituted is far from satisfactory.

Judge Ellsworth went this morning to personally inspect the grounds, and familiarize himself with the existing conditions.

Mrs. Ballard desires either a "cure satisfactory" easement in her home or good and sufficient monetary remuneration for the violation of agreement.

SEES THIEF TAKE WATCH

Barber, Who Robs Sleeping Soldier, Faces Grand Larceny Charge.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Wm. Kain, a barber, was caught in the act of picking the pocket of a soldier in the Fountain saloon at Third and Market streets at 7:15 this morning.

Wm. H. Douglas, the soldier, had been spending some time in the saloon and had seated himself in a chair for a snooze when Kain went over and sat beside him. The bartender, Frank Ranken, happened to glance in, and saw Kain reach his hand into the pocket of the soldier and take his gold watch and chain and hiding it inside of his coat. Ranken, who, although a little man is nevertheless plucky, went up to Kain who is a powerful specimen, and accused him of the theft. The barber denied it and a slight scuffle ensued in which Ranken came out the victor, and after securing the watch he placed it upon the bar.

He then went out and summoned Police Officer Roland, who arrested Kain and booked him at the city prison for grand larceny.

Secretary Russell is using the letter as an argument in favor of the bonds.

JAPANESE REORGANIZE THE STAFF IN KOREA

TOKIO, Sept. 18.—A new official organization of the staff of the resident general for Korea was submitted to the Privy Council this morning and passed. It is believed it will be promulgated on Saturday. According to the organization, the office of the deputy resident general has been established, and it is understood that Baron Sone, the late minister of finance in the Katsura cabinet, will be appointed to the post. Another feature of the organization, is the permission granted the Japanese vice-minister of the Korean government and others serving as Korean officials to retain their official standing in the Japanese government. Marquis Ito, the resident general of Korea, will leave for Seoul on September 23, and it is expected that upon his arrival there the new system of reform will then be vigorously pushed, especially in the matter of the judiciary.

PRAIRIE SCHOONER STARTLES NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—A team of oxen driving a prairie schooner, the driver of which was a rugged looking old man, who wore typical Western garb, including a sombrero, attracted great crowds on Broadway. The vehicle and the driver were not only in striking contrast with the jam of automobiles and carriages on the "Great Highway," but they were a decided novelty in New York.

The driver was Ezra Meeker, a pioneer of the Oregon trail who had returned over the trail he followed to the West half a century ago.

CURIOS THROG FOLLOWERS

All along Riverside drive from Grant's tomb to Seventy-second street, Meeker was followed by an interested and curious throng. When Broadway was reached the crowd was so dense that the oxen which the hale old man afterwards described as Dave and Dandy, had a hard time to make any headway.

Meeker's trip ended at last at the Battery. He had come all the way from Puyallup, Washington, to New York, in 48 days. Meeker's object in making his unique journey is to persuade the government to build a National highway from East to West.

CRAGMONT

Berkeley's First Hillside Property to be Sold On Ridiculously Easy Terms--10% Cash and 7½ Years to Pay the Balance

The reservation of lots made in Cragmont during the last five days has gone way beyond our expectations. Our autos have been loaded to their full capacity and the tract has been continually dotted with buyers making their selection of lots.

Cragmont Prices

are the lowest of any hillside property ever offered in Berkeley. This class of property has been bringing from $30 to $150 per foot, while we are able to offer CRAGMONT at from $10 to $40 per foot—the greater part of it running as low as $15 per foot.

Cragmont Terms

This is the first instance in the history of Berkeley that hillside property has been placed on the market at such ridiculously low terms—10 per cent cash and 1 per cent per month, which gives you 90 months or seven and a half years to pay the balance. There will be no interest nor taxes for three and a half years, which cuts down the usual extra cost to the lot purchaser. Figure it out and then think it over. We have 50 foot lots that can be had for $500—you pay $50 cash and have seven and a half years to pay the balance at $5 per month without interest and taxes for three and a half years.

Cragmont Investment

To invest in CRAGMONT property, whether you plan to build a home now, later, or never, will insure a certain profit—buy now while prices are at bedrock and reap your profit after all improvements have been completed. We can cite dozens of instances where people have purchased lots in new tracts before the plow had turned a single clod toward the commencement of street work and have sold after street improvements were complete and made profits of from 50 to 500 per cent on the money invested. Say you buy a $1000 lot—$100 cash and $10 per month—at the end of one year you have paid in $220—then you sell at $1400 net to you and you have made nearly 200 per cent profit on your investment. Figure out how many years it would take you to make the same profit from a savings bank.

Remember

The prices and terms can't be duplicated for the same class of property—10% cash—7½ years to pay the balance. No taxes and no interest for 3½ years.

Make Your Reservations Before the Opening Sale

Autos and Rigs Take You to the Tract From Our Main Office

Remember

The sale doesn't open till Saturday, September 21, but you can make reservations at once—act quickly and get your choice of lots.

Send for our Illustrated Folder, containing a beautiful birds-eye view of the tract and surrounding country.

Cragmont Improvements

will be in keeping with the general high standard of the entire tract; all streets will be macadamized in first-class shape; the slope of the land will enable us to establish the finest kind of a sewer system; water will be furnished to every lot; stone gutters and cement sidewalks will be laid, a building restriction to prevent the erection of "shacks" will appear in the contract. All of these improvements are positive guarantees by the land company and will be set forth in the contract.

Cragmont Views

are such that you may have your fill as the different elevations are reached over the gentle slope, for a constantly varying panorama of beautiful scenes unfold themselves to the delighted eye of the spectator. For scenic beauty and grandeur it is unsurpassed by any foothills on the coast. Where is there so wonderful a panorama as that which spreads out from north to south along the shores of San Francisco bay? We defy any one to show us any property on the coast that gives a more extensive view of San Francisco bay and our beautiful Golden Gate.

Cragmont Transportation

will be the best of any hillside property of its kind about the bay. We have taken the greatest care in laying out the streets to make the grades easy enough to accommodate car lines, autos and rigs—note the route of the car lines on the large birdseye view in our illustrated folder. Note the closeness of the University of California, which is only a few blocks distant.
